Powering Global Health with Trusted, High-Quality APIs - Not Done (Clarification)

At Dr. Reddy's, we believe that access to high-quality, affordable medicines begins with the availability of world-class active pharmaceutical ingredients (APIs). Our API business plays a vital role in global healthcare by supplying trusted, cost-effective APIs to leading generic formulation manufacturers across the globe helping bring affordable treatment options to patients everywhere. As a preferred API partner for pharmaceutical companies in the United States, Europe, Latin America, Japan, China, Korea, and emerging markets, we're proud to contribute to healthier communities worldwide.

With over 40 years of scientific excellence, our legacy is built on deep expertise in developing and manufacturing some of the most complex APIs including steroids, peptides, long-chain molecules, and highly potent APIs (HPAIs/oncology drugs). This technical strength is bolstered by our strong capabilities in intellectual property management and regulatory compliance, ensuring we consistently meet and often exceed the world's most rigorous standards.
